Site is a building located in a noisy city. There is a wide avenue of cobblestone & brick outside the building. Bldg is of red stone & brick, is old, very plain. Inside the building there is a long corridor leading from double door entrance and a staircase to the right of the entrance. There is a landing leading to the porch of several stories and the ~~large~~ window on the landing is restricted by bars or cages. There is a large room on the second floor, has a conference room. It looks out onto the avenue. The room is white, has a long rectangular table, photos (military & civilian men) on the wall, and some furniture.

window. There is a group of men in the room. 1 man in particular is short, fat, balding and not particularly neat in appearance. He seems to be in charge and is not pleased with what the other men are reporting to him. Papers are strewn over the table and there is a map on the wall of the Western Hemisphere with ticks in cities - mostly European. They are discussing some sort of plan with what seems to be military/political implications. Somehow a plane is involved.
